(1) Converted using the official UN exchange rates for November 2010.

(2) This analysis includes the top 30 donors from the New York donors conference based on the total pledge. Donors in italics are part of the top 30 but have been excluded from this analysis as they are yet to allocate a budget to 2010 (Argentina, InterAction, Kuwait and Qatar) and / or are yet to allocate a budget to 2010 and 2011 (International Federation of the Red Cross and UNASUR).

(3) This analysis is based on the 2010 calendar year. Donors used different fiscal years to make their pledges, as listed on the OSE website. Most donors used the calendar year (1 January - 31 December). Five donors, the Australia (30 June), Canada (31 March), IMF (30 September), Japan (31 March) and the US (30 September), used different fiscal years. The Office of the Special Envoy has attempted to harmonize donor pledges based on the calendar year.

(4) Contributions to the Haiti Reconstruction Fund specified as budget support are listed under budget support in italics and underline.

(5) Includes grants provided to the Government of Haiti and other partners. Does not include contributions to the Haiti Reconstruction Fund. This data is based on that reported by donors. For further data on the HRF see www.haitireconstructionfund.org/hrf/members.

(6) Committed (or obligated) funds are those for which projects have been approved or agreements/contracts have been signed or are in the process of being transferred/dispensed. Committed funds are exclusive of disbursed funds.

(7) Disbursed funds are those that have been transferred to an implementing partner (e.g., the Government of Haiti, an NGO or other non-state service provider).

(8) Pending funds are those that have not been committed or disbursed

(9) The IMF will provide all of its program funding (excluding debt relief) through concessional loans and Venezuela will also provide a $10 million loan.

(10) Canada, CDB, the European Commission, France, the IDB, Spain, Sweden and the US have other funding sources to contribute to the recovery efforts (funding in addition to their New York pledge and exclusive of their humanitarian funding).

(11) The International Federation of the Red Cross (IFRC) and the National Red Cross societies raised approximately $816 million in private funds for the Haiti response, out of which it pledged $320 million in support of the government's Action Plan for National Recovery and Development at the New York donors conference. Similarly InterAction's members raised over $795 million in private funds for the Haiti response, out of which it pledged $321.8 million at the donors conference. Both organizations are unable to provide an update on the status of their pledge as their data collection efforts do not distinguish between relief and recovery. The Red Cross reports that of the $816 million in private funds for relief and recovery, $235.03 million had been disbursed in June 2010. Approximately 38 InterAction members (excluding the American Red Cross which is included in the IFRC's pledge) reported on their expenditure of private funds in the Haiti Accountability Report (HAR) published in July 2010. Most of the figures in the HAR are from the three month mark. These 38 members had received $514 million in private funding for relief and recovery, out of which $173.5 million has been spent. (Note that participation in the Haiti Accountability Report is voluntary so not all members reported on the use of their funds. Therefore the total that InterAction can report on is less than the total raised by its members.)
